

Document Management

Electronically communicate important documents, memos and training material to your employees via their smartphones, tablets or PCs.

The Aquarius Document Management solution has been developed in response to customers seeking a quick and efficient way for broadcasting and distributing documents such as

- company memos
- policy updates
- training material

Ease of Distribution

Built to keep essential documents at the fingertips of employees, the system can distribute a range of document types, from pdfs to video files and we've made it as easy as possible to update and distribute those policy documents to ensure employees have access to the most up-to-date version.

The system also allows administrators to tailor document distribution to specific groups of employees via their smartphones, tablets or PCs.

Policy control

Managers have full control over the distribution of documents to specific employee groups via the Document Management portal.

The portal allows for accurate monitoring of

- document acknowledgement
- time taken for documents to be reviewed by employees
- time taken for the document to be 'looked at'
